

Irish Examiner

In brief

Architects seek new agency

President of The Royal Institute of the Architects of Ireland Carole Pollard has urged the Government to set up a national infrastructure delivery agency to anticipate the needs of a growing population.

"It is now known that by 2025 second level enrolments are expected to be in excess of 400,000 pupils for the first time in the history of the State. This will trigger a greater need for third-level education facilities from 2030," the architects said.