ODKM ARCHITECTS

ODKM Architects is a young, award-winning RIA registered architectural practice based in Dublin and London, with accolades and publications in both Ireland and abroad. As passionate, innovative thinkers, each member of the team brings unique and diverse skills to the practice, in line with their passion for quality driven design. This stems from a common holistic design philosophy inherited from the team's breadth of experience gained individually at other revered international practices – a philosophy that architecture can improve the quality of our lives. Set up in a shop front window in 2009, ODKM has become established as one of Ireland's premier young design practices. Whatever the design brief, this team has the expertise to design and deliver dynamic projects, approaching every design challenge head on. This enables ODKM to provide leading design knowledge through the entire process including practice management, planning, contractual and construction expertise to bring your dream project to life.
